

INTERNATIONAL TRADE FAIR ORGANICS AND MILLETS – 2025

JANUARY 23rd, 24th and 25th, 2025

TRIPURAVASINI, PALACE GROUND, BENGALURU

The sixth edition of International Trade Fair 2025 on Organics and Millets organized by the Department of Agriculture, Government of Karnataka will be a platform for farmers, farmer groups, domestic and international companies, Central and State institutions in the organic and millet sector to connect and explore new opportunities and to achieve effective forward and backward linkages.

The Government of Karnataka has been a forerunner in the promotion of organics and millets with the First Organics and Millets Trade Fair held in 2017 and subsequently the second, third, fourth and fifth editions in 2018, 2019, 2023 and 2024 respectively at Bengaluru.

These fairs have made remarkable landmarks in popularizing organics and millets with the below objectives:

- Good for the farmer as they have multiple uses (food, fodder, fuel) and as a good risk management strategy for farmers during drought.
- Good for the consumer to overcome some of the biggest nutritional and health problems (iron, zinc, folic acid, calcium deficiencies, diabetes and more) and
- Good for the environment as they have a low water footprint, arable to survive in the hottest, driest climates and will be important in coping with climate change and more.

HIGHLIGHTS of ITF 2025

- ▶ 300+ air-conditioned stalls
- ▶ Exclusive stalls for organics and millets
- ▶ Pavilion on landraces
- ▶ Pavilion on soil pedon
- ▶ Platform for B2C
- ▶ B2B interaction
- ▶ International conference
- ▶ Farmers workshop
- ▶ Food stalls on organics, millets and forgotten foods
- ▶ Cultural programmes

NEW IN THE FAIR

TRADITIONAL CROP HERITAGE – Display of Crop Landraces which are primitive cultivars selected and cultivated by the farmers from many generations. They are variously known as farmers' traditional, heritage, folk or heirloom varieties of plant populations developed and managed by local/indigenous traditional farming system.

CONSERVE SOIL FOR SUSTAINABLE AGRICULTURE – Soil being the prime nutrient base for plant growth, creating awareness about the importance, properties, classification and structure of soil among farmers, public and students is essential. With this aim, Soil Pedon Pavilion is introduced in International Trade Fair on Organics and Millets – 2025.
